

Programme for the day

Time	Theme
9:00 - 10.00am	Arrival/Registration/refreshments/networking <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● If not registered please ensure you notify declan.smyth@ccwater.org.uk of your attendance ● Bring one photographic form of ID ● Arrive at Ty William Morgan House, UK Government Hub, 6 - 7 Central Square, Cardiff CF10 1EP ● Please sign in, collect your pass - wear it throughout the day, then help yourself to refreshments.
10:00 - 10.20am	Welcome, introduction and overview – Dr. David Clubb, Chair, National Infrastructure Commission for Wales Chair Recorded key note address from Lee Waters, Deputy Minister for Climate Change Welsh Government
10:20 -11.00am	Setting the scene: Water impacts and climate change in Wales - Introduced by Dr. Mike Keil, Senior Director of Policy, Research and Campaigning, Consumer Council for Water with contributions from Professor Lizzie Kendon, Met office and Professor, Liz Bentley, Chief Executive, Royal Meteorological Society <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● What's the situation? ● What climate change means for Wales in terms of water related impacts? ● How well are we adapted to extreme weather and water related climate change impacts? ● How can public facing weather/climate information and weather warnings engage the public in action?
11:00 - 11.15am	Comfort and refreshment break
11.15am - 2.00pm	A new normal - Instigating behaviour change and transforming social norms for water related climate change action (45min) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Introduced by Dr. Mike Keil, Consumer Council for Water ● Chaired by Ayesha Siddiqa, Cardiff University Medical Student and ex member of Youth Parliament Provocation and panel debate on water related action and behaviour change with contributions from Nicci Russell, Managing Director, Waterwise; Lia Moutselou, Consumer Council for Water and Kathryn Rathouse, KR Social Research <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Insights on behaviour change and public engagement on water in Wales ● How the public (as consumers and citizens), businesses and water industry co-create and own change ● How we all lead and facilitate this

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ideas and lessons from other sectors and behaviour change science (water efficiency and demand management focus)
12.05 - 12.55pm	Lunch and networking
1.00 - 1.45 pm	The future of water resources, and considering nature based solutions to address water quality and climate change impacts in Wales (45min) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Introduced by Carole Anne Davies, Chief Executive, Design Commission for Wales Chaired by Aleena Khan, Commissioner, National Infrastructure for Wales Provocation and panel debate – Q&A with ten minute contributions each from Richard Blackwell, Director, Water Resources West Group; Ceri Davies, Director for Evidence, Policy and Permitting, Natural Resources Wales and Simone Lowthe-Thomas, Director of Nature Recovery and Climate Change, Brecon Beacons National Park Authority <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Water resources: public engagement, demand management, nature impact mitigation and the prospect of cross border water transfers Catchment management: the bigger picture on long terms solutions (an overall approach and the Brecon Beacons example) Citizen views on water, water resources status and longer term modeling
1.45 -1.55 pm	Comfort and refreshment break
1.55 - 2.05 pm	Feedback and conclusions lead by Dr. David Clubb, National Infrastructure Commission for Wales and Dr. Mike Keil, Consumer Council for Water
2.05 - 3.00 pm	Built, natural and managed environments and action on addressing water related climate change impacts introduced by Simon Richards (55 min) Provocation and scene setting presentations (ten minutes) by Ed Beard, Assistant Director, National Infrastructure Commission England and Tony Harrington, Dŵr Cymru Welsh Water. Chaired by Aleena Khan, Commissioner, National Infrastructure for Wales (20min) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> What should the priorities be – considering design, investment and maintenance? What can we learn from UK NIC report recommendations and how do they fit for Wales Panel and workshop led by Simon Richards, Landscape Architect, Director of Land Studio and Design Commission for Wales design panel co-chair, and Lisa Sawyer, Land Studio, Director and Civil Engineer (30 min) A workshop separating delegates in 2-3 groups to explore key issues of water management in the landscape, built and managed environments, considering the implications for infrastructure, place making and development. As well as the questions covered by presenters the workshop will also aim to address: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> What are the challenges?

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Where are the opportunities?• What actions can be prioritised and for whom?
3.00 - 3.10 pm	Comfort break
3.10 - 3.30 pm	Feedback and conclusions lead by Dr. David Clubb, National Infrastructure Commission for Wales and Dr. Mike Keil, Consumer Council for Water
3.30 -.4.00pm	Final discussion by all: deciding our call for action on water and climate change lead by Dr. David Clubb, National Infrastructure Commission for Wales and Dr. Mike Keil, Consumer Council for Water